POETICAL.

OVER THE RIVER.

[This beautiful poem, by an American writer, Miss Priest, has commanded the admiration of all readers during the many rounds it has made of the newspaper and magazine press during the last ten years. To those who have lost friends—and who has not?—some of the allusions are inexpressibly affecting. Many a moistened eye will follow the lines.]

Over the river they beckon to me
Loved ones who've passed to the other side;
The gleam of their snowy robes I see,
But their voices are lost in the dashing tide.
There's one with ringlets of sunny gold,
And eyes the reflection of heaven's own blue;
He crossed in the twilight gray and cold,
And the pale mist hid him from mortal view,
We saw not the angels who met him there,
The gates of the city we could not see;
Over the river, over the river,
My brother stands waiting to welcome me.

Over the river the boatman pale
Carried another—the household pet;
Her bright curls waved in the gentle gale—
Darling Minnie, I see her yet!
She crossed on her bosom her dimpled hands,
And fearlessly entered the phantom bark;
We watched it glide from the silver sands,
And all our sunshine grew strangely dark;
We know she is safe on the other side,
Where all the ransomed and angels be;
Over the river, the mystic river,
My childhood's idol is waiting for me.

For none return from those quiet shores,
Who cross with the boatman cold and pale;
We hear the dip of the golden oars,
We catch a gleam of the snowy sail,
And lo! they have passed away from our heart;
They cross the stream and are gone for aye!
We cannot sunder the veil apart,
That hides from our vision the gates of day;
We only know that their barks no more
Shall sail with ours on life's stormy sea;
Yet somehow I hope, on the unseen shore,
They watch, and beckon, and wait for me.

And I sit and think when the sunset's gold
Is flushing river and hill and shore,
I shall one day stand by the water cold
And list to the sound of the boatman's oar;
I shall watch for the gleam of the flapping sail,
I shall hear the boat as it gains the strand,
I shall pass from sight with the boatman pale,

The Old Woman and the Bear.

On the borders of a vast forest which abounded in all manner of wild beasts, there once lived an old woman with her husband, John. Driven by hunger, a bear one day made an attack on the rude cabin that sheltered them. John promptly retreated to a safe position in the loft, and calmly surveyed the battle between his wife and the bear, not caring much which side whipped. When at last the old lady proved victorious, he came down and hailed her with the congratulation, "Goodness alive, Peggy ain't that a big bear what we killed!"

So, now that Uncle Sam has killed his "bear," the Rebellion, the "Johnnies" are coming up and slapping him good naturedly on the shoulder, with "Goodness alive! ain't that a big Rebellion what we killed!" It was evident to every intelligent mind, willing to admit that two were greater than one that the "bear" would be slain. But the men who adopted the declaration of the Chicago platform that the war was a "failure," the men who "wanted the south to have her rights; who "didn't believe in Abolition;" who called slavery "a Divine institution, and the normal condition of the black man;" who prated about "the weakness and corruption of the Administration;" who declared that "the chivalric Southrons could never be conquered;" who plied the public mind with wearisome dissertations on "the enormous debt," "the high taxes," "the public extravagance;" who called Mr. Lincoln a "buffoon" and a tyrant;" who never rejoiced at a Union victory because "it was only prolonging the war;" who put on long faces when they saw a wounded soldier, but never put their hands in their pockets to relieve his suffering family; all these men stood quietly by while the fight was going on, without a word of commendation for those who were fighting the battle for them, expecting and many of them hoping that the "bear" would whip. Then there were others, such men as are well-known in our own midst, who were even more decided in their "sympathies" for the "bear." Men who kept at a safe distance from the fight, but were active in their encouragement and secret aid; who winked at the "bear," as much as to say, "Go ahead Old Fellow, we're with you heart and soul," who gave him all the support they could in their cowardly, underhanded way; who declared the government a "tyranny," and the Rebellion a "heaven-born cause;" who swore allegiance to the government, enjoyed the mild protection of its Laws, and yet heartily wished for its overthrow. These men shut their eyes to the glorious history of our past; they forgot that there is a Power who rules the destiny of nations, and is able to bring good out of evil; they forgot that there is such a thing as eternal Justice; they forgot that our government is founded on the broadest and noblest principles of humanity; they gloried in the idea of an empire which rested on the blood of human bondage, and in their infatuation they verily believed that treason and villiany would triumph, and that right and justice would be overthrown. The hope was Father to the belief. They couldn't tell exactly how it was to happen, for might as well as right was against them. But somehow they kept dreaming of foreign intervention; they anxiously awaited an uprising in the North against "the cruel war," and "the burdensome debt;" they believed in the "Sons" that were waiting to spring upon Sherman; they were hopeful of the "event," whilst Lee was preparing to "astonish the world; in their folly and prejudice they were given over "to make and believe a lie."

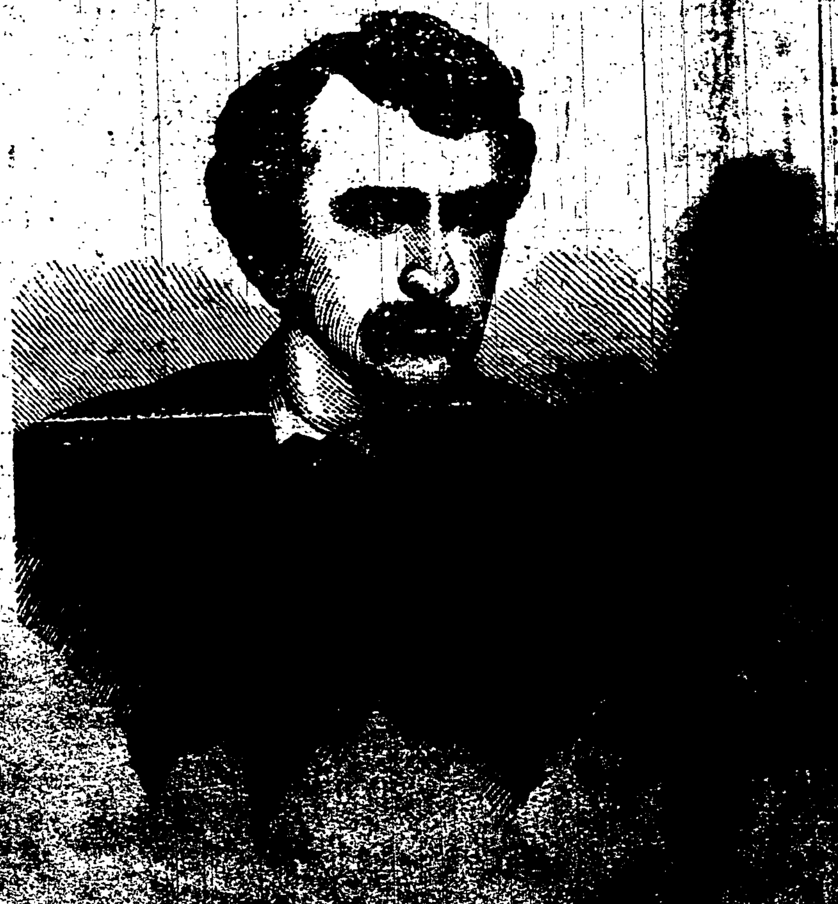

But the "bear" is dead. Their last, fond lingering hope died out with the fall of Richmond and the surrender of the Rebel armies. The big fight is over. And now these secret cowardly Traitors, are coming down from the "loft," and with mock jubilant faces chucking Uncle Sam familiarly under the chin, with "That was a big fight, but I always knew we'd whip."

It was rather amusing to see how fond of the "Old Flag" these men suddenly became, when the Rebel capitol succumbed [illegible] they ran about town buying, [illegible] and borrowing everything [illegible] bore a stripe or [illegible] [illegible] they were that the war was over and the Government re-established; how well they "always knew it would end in this way," and how "ridiculous" it was for the South ever to take up arms against such a great and good government as ours!

We have little faith in death-bed repentance. With all his well known forbearance, we have always doubted whether the Almighty would be justified in listening to the dying prayer of a life-long villain. His repentance springs from fear rather than love.—So with these eleventh hour Union men. While the slave confederacy was flourishing, they were buoyant and hopeful. "The South could never be conquered," was the burden of their daily speech. Now that it is drawing its last gasp, these men, with the coolest impudence, gather within the sanctuary of the Republic, claim place and protection under it, and declare that they "always were for the Union!" Before receiving them into full connection with loyalty, let them "bring forth fruits meet for repentance." We are in favor of putting them on a probation like other foreigners who happen to be in our midst.—To the Union men belongs the honor of killing the "bear"—to them belongs the privilege of disposing of the carcass. They don't intend to be interfered with in the enjoyment of that privilege. They have fairly slaughtered the "bear," and they mean to do with his body just what seems best to them. Rest assured they will bury him safe and deep.—Baltimore County Union.

DAVIS IN DISGUISE.—The idea of Jeff. Davis, the aristocratic, the dignified, the haughty, being caught running off in one of his wife's dresses, is too much for the gravest man's gravity. It is the pathos of rebellion—the most ridiculous "last ditch" that could have been imagined. Emerson tells about a Western street that began as a broad avenue, turned into a common street, then into a cow-path, and then into a squirrel track and ran up a tree. But this is nothing to the career of the rebel who began as President of the Southern Confederacy, then turned thief, then became a fugitive from justice, and was finally detected while running off in one of his wife's old dresses.—Journal.

☞ Four years ago the London Times wrote, "the great Republic is dead." Wonder what the Times thinks to-day? Rather a lively corpse, eh?

THE ASSASSIN OF THE P[illegible]

Employment for the Soldiers [illegible]

It will not be many [illegible] shouldered [illegible] soldiers of the [illegible] to be [illegible] will be coming home. [illegible] is the great review in Washington [illegible] speedily after which, it is understood, the armies of the [illegible] of the Tennessee, Georgia, and the [illegible] be mustered out of service [illegible] long, toil honorably over [illegible] What shall they [illegible] [illegible] ed for—but of method, [illegible] good sense, and of organization. [illegible] a question how we will endeavor to recognize the claim of the soldiers on the country—how we shall receive them on their return, how we shall take them back into civil and peaceful society, what employment we shall provide for them and what effort we shall make to reinstate them into positions not less advantageous than those they occupied before the war.

The Sanitary Commission is trying to answer these questions. It has established a Bureau of Employment for Disabled and honorabley Discharged Soldiers. The purpose of this Bureau is to bring employers and those seeking employment together, and without charge to either. Its office, at No. 35 Chambers-st, in this city, is meant to be a rendezvous for returning soldiers who may there register their names with a memorandum of the kind of employment they desire, and with such other information as employers will naturally expect. Those wishing workmen of any kind are invited to register their application, stating wages, locality, prospect of permanent employment, and especially whether their work can be done by disabled men, and what [illegible] disability does not [illegible] a soldier for the specified occupation. Those who are interested will find more precise information at the Bureau itself and from the circulars which it distributes.

We heartily commend this and all kindred efforts as likely to be useful and as indispensable, but we by no means stop there. While urging due attention to those facilities—these means of help which makes it easy for those desiring to help the soldiers to direct their efforts in some safe channel—we are far from thinking that all our duty is done in calling attention to them. We urge still more strenuously that each individual ought to feel himself bound to contibute his personal efforts toward the same end which the Bureau contemplates and works for. We want every man and woman to feel that they owe something to the armies that have saved the country. Asking for nothing on the ground of charity, we ask for everything on the ground of duty and obligation. Let no one appeal for charity to the [illegible]

[illegible] at it [illegible] example of [illegible] have been established all over the country. As they make no charge [illegible]

The Income [illegible]

The Philadelphia [illegible] makes some remarks on this subject, which are deserving of consideration. It says: We earnestly hope that the Government will, before long, find it possible to remit this tax, which is perhaps one of the worst forms of taxation ever devised, and excusable by nothing but absolute necessity. We shall briefly state [illegible] position.

1. It tends to lower the moral standard of the people by offering too immense temptation to deception. These descriptions are of a nature that in the vast majority of cases they cannot be discovered, [illegible] to practice them [illegible] greater.

2. It [illegible] honest and [illegible] on those [illegible] the penalties [illegible]

3. It [illegible] exceedingly [illegible]

4. It imposes [illegible] troublesome [illegible] sary estimates [illegible] Many who keep imperfect accounts cannot possibly do otherwise than guess, and here the honest and honorable make up for the deficiencies of those who are otherwise.

4. It requires very expensive machinery for its collection.

For these all-sufficient reasons we hope that other modes of taxation will be found, to take the place of this, which, moreover, is essentially discordant with the character of our people.

THE statement going the rounds of the press that President Lincoln told somebody that he was of Jewish descent had for its origin simply this: Mr. Lincoln, talking with a rabbi, jocularly remarked that he (Lincoln) was probably of Hebrew stock, as his father had three sons who were respectively named Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

What's in a Kiss?

"Mother, mother, kiss!" pleaded a little cherub boy, with blue eyes, anxiously searching his mother's unusually serious face, as she tenderly laid him upon his soft, warm bed had lovingly folded the snowy drapery around him. "Do kiss me, mother!" And the [illegible] began to tremble, the [illegible] gather in the upturned [illegible] little bosom heave with [illegible] been naughty to- [illegible] sadly; "hew [illegible] spoken [illegible]

[illegible] What is a kiss? A simple kiss! Much, very much. More potent than the scepter—dearer to affection than countless wealth. Who has not felt its magic influence? 'Tis the lover's tender pledge of undying constancy; its a bond of friendship and fidelity [illegible] ardent; but alas to old age, to the withered heart and bloomless cheek.

IMPORTANT TO UNITED STATES TAX [illegible]—We have been informed [illegible] in the law of interest [illegible] pay taxes on manufac[illegible] animals, &c., was [illegible] act approved March 3d [illegible] [illegible] The law [illegible] who pay monthly [illegible] make payment without notice on the last ten days of the month on which they make returns. That is, the returns for the month of April are required to be made to the Assessors within the first ten days of May. The Assessor is required to prepare his list, and deliver it to the Collector by the 20th of May, and the taxpayer is required to call and pay from the 20th to the 31st of May. If not paid within said ten days, the Collector is required to add ten per cent, and may proceed to collect by distraint, and so on from month to month.

Such is the law, but we are informed that, owing to the deliteriousness of the parties who are required to make returns, the Assessors seldom get their lists ready for the Collector before the end of the month, so that it is impossible for the Collector to collect or the tax payers to pay, during the last ten days of a month, as the law contemplates. To obviate his difficulty we understand that some of the Collectors and most probably all of them, will not indict the ten per cent penalty until the 10th day of the following month. That is, if the April list is paid by the 10th of June, and the May list by the 10th of July, &c., the penalties will be avoided. This seems but justice to the tax payers, at least until the Assessors can [illegible] these [illegible] by the [illegible] of the month.

The annual lists, which comprises incomes, licenses, carriages, gold watches, silver plate, musical instruments, &c., is collected differently. The collector receives the list sometime in July, and he is required within twenty days thereafter to give notice in one public paper in each county, stating the place where and time when, the tax must be paid. If not paid by the expiration of the time specified the collector must give a personal notice, or send it by mail to each person, for which he is allowed a fee of 20 cents. And if the tax is not paid within ten days after the serving or mailing of said notice, ten per cent. is to be added and the tax and penalties may be collected by distraint.

The law is different now from what it was last year, in regard to the ten per cent, penalty, Then the ten per cent. penalty went before personal notice, now it goes on ten days after such notice is mailed or sent.

We have been thus particular, clearly to point out the law, and its requirement, and its penalties, because hundreds of our readers are interested. By paying due attention to this they will save themselves much trouble, loss and vexation.

The Observer advocates the inauguration of the Bible-women movement in this country, something after the plan so successfully worked in London. Conceding that much has been done by the various agencies for the distribution of the Word of God, and the alleviation of the poor, it asserts that much remains to be done for them.—The introduction of the London method of Bible labor would do much towards accomplishing the work needed. The plan in London is to divide the work between superintendents and Bible-women, and employing the former at a salary, and sometimes also in the latter capacity women who have [illegible] converted from sin and elevated [illegible] ignorance and debasement. One advantage of these Bible missions is, that they are not denominational, and therefore freer and more acceptable; and another, that they reach further into the heart of the lower portions of the community than any other organization.

—It is gratifying to note that the colored people of the South are reorganizing their churches upon the proper basis. In Charleston the African [illegible] Church, with nearly three [illegible] members, has been organized. In [illegible] a vast body of the colored people assembled in the State Street Methodist Episcopal Church for the same purpose. The question was put to the audience: "As many as desire to continue their connection with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will please rise to their feet." Not a soul rose. The question was then propounded: "As many as desire to sever their relation with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and to unite with the Methodist Episcopal Church, will please rise to their feet." The whole audience rose.

Wonder if such a "desirable" pew couldn't be purchased hereabouts.

Agricultural.

Watering Stock.

The importance of farm stock having a full supply of clear, pure water convenient at all times is, I presume, apparent to all good farmers. I have recently contrived a plan by which I water mine with no other labor than that of standing at the pump on the porch and pumping the water. I do not claim any originality in the plan, but it is at least a new thing in my neighborhood. In fact, I am so well pleased with it, that I am inclined to sketch out and send you the arrangement, subject, of course, to your disposition:

1. Saw one inch square strips of any desirable length, and as many pieces three inches wide; the latter will do as well of half inch board; lay down a three inch piece; place and tack down an inch piece on each side, leaving an inch space between them; place another three inch piece on top, and nail tight; this, as you perceive, forms an inch pipe or tube; so continue until the requisiti number is made.

2. Dig a trench from your well or pump, say a foot deep, to the place desired to fix the water troughs; put down your pipes with small pieces of board to rest the ends and middle up on to nail to; fit the ends close, and nail fast.

3. Make and arrange a small box (say to hold four gallons) convenient to pump into, or to be filled in any other way at the pump, with a tube fitted in the bottom and into the pipe below. The bottom of this box should not be less than six inches above the top of the troughs at the other end. Make and arrange as many water troughs as wanted, connected with the pipe in the ground by tubes in the same way; the latter should all be as near the same level with each other as possible; cover up your pipe, and the job is completed.

Now, all that is required is to fill the box at the pump, and the troughs in the yard will fill themselves at the same time. To prevent injury by frost, have a faucet or spile in the lowest part of the ground pipe, where you can let all the water out when desired. To prevent running the troughs over, place a small spout in one of the troughs, say an inch below the top, where the water will run out as fast as filled. [illegible] [illegible] one, even with one cow, should be without it. Of course, large farmers could increase the size of the pipe, or use lead pipe on the same principle. Brother farmers, try it. I know of nothing of the same cost on my farm that pays so well and gives an equal amount of satisfaction.—Cor. Germantown Telegraph.

The Crops in the West.

[From the Burlington (Iowa) Register, May 25th.]

The crops in these parts look fine. With the exception of a little cold weather we had a week ago, the season so far has been very prosperous. Grass, oats and wheat never looked more promising at this season of the year, and corn is coming up rapidly. If the chinch bug will attend to his own business and let others' business alone, we shall have an abundant harvest, doubtless. Our farmers heretofore have tried to head off this troublesome insect by sowing less wheat. There is less wheat sown this year in proportion to the ground cultivated than usual, by two-thirds the number of acres.

From the Carlyle (Ill.) Banner, 25th.

This has been an unusually backward spring with the farmers so far as planting corn is concerned. Owing to the wet weather, many have been unable to sow oats; yet the farmers are rapidly putting in their corn crop.

Advices from all parts of the country tell us that the wheat crop never looked better.

From the Ogle Co. (Ill.) Reporter, 26th.

CHINCH BUGS.—We learn that these insects have made their appearance again. Some pieces of barley have already been damaged by them so that it has turned yellow. We have not heard of any damage to the wheat as yet, but it is too early. Some tell us that the wet weather of this spring is favorable to crops, as it packs the ground so as to prevent their working.

From the Genesco (Ill.) Republican, 26th.

We hear of quite a number of farmers who have plowed in their wheat fields, and have planted them to corn. The chinch bug is already making havoc among the crops, and farmers dare not trust to their wheat. Under the circumstances there should have been no wheat sowed in this county this spring; the folly of such a course is being felt. A good deal of the wheat land will be turned under, and other crops planted instead.

THERE is a great increase of live stock in Michigan. This year the increase of cows as compared with 1860, amounts to 30,190; the increase of sheep amounts to the enormous figures of 1,555,589, and the increase in horses to 9,000.

[illegible] Convention.

A State Convention [illegible] be held at Harrisburg on WEDNESDAY, THE 19th [illegible] 1865, at 12 o'clock M., for the [illegible] of putting in nomination a State [illegible], to the supporter by the friends [illegible] Union at the coming October [illegible].

[illegible] earnest and zealous labors of a loyal people secured the great victory in 1864, and made the war, which our enemies denounced as a failure a [illegible] success in 1865. [illegible] flag has been maintained—our enemies destroyed—our Government preserved, and peace re-established. Let every friend who aided in this result, take measures to be represented in that Convention. We must see to it that the fruits of our success are not lost to the Nation.

Business of vast importance will be presented for its consideration and every district in the State should be represented.

SIMON CAMERON, Chairman.
A. W. BENEDICT, WIEN FORNEY, } Secretaries.

J. Wilkes Booth.

We present our readers this week with what is said by those familiar with the man, to be an excellent portrait of the assassin of the President, J. Wilkes Booth. He was the third son of the celebrated English tragedian, Junius Brutus Booth, and was born in Maryland in 1839. Bred to the stage, he made his debut as an actor under the name of John Wilkes at the early age of seventeen, and after securing some local reputation, assumed his full name, and starred it during some seasons with indifferent success. Though without the eminent talent of his father, he is said to have possessed advantages of intellect and person which would have given him a high place in his profession, had not his dissolute habits interfered with his devotion to it. He left the stage nearly a year ago on account of a bronchial affection, which injured his voice, and thenceforward seems to have been entirely absorbed in the conspiracy for the captivity or death of Mr. Lincoln.

With all his dissipation he is said by his acquaintances to have been a young man of rather kind impulses and to have been devotedly attached to his family. But sympathy for the rebellion, in his case, as amongst all its votaries, brutalized and barbarized the better qualities of his nature until it was fitted for the crime that cost him his life. He was but 26 years of age when slain at Garrett's farm, but [illegible] enough to cause this nation to curse his memory, and to pray that it may never look upon his like again.

The Mode of Making Nominations.

The County Committee, by resolution, instructed the Chairman to present to the boroughs and townships the question of changing the present mode of making nominations for their decision, and also directed that he should explain through the columns of the Argus the methods proposed, and the arguments pro and con. This question has been frequently agitated in County Conventions and has always been determined in the negative. Two modes are now presented, either of which, if adopted, will essentially differ from the present system. We do not intend to discuss the propriety of making any change, but simply to explain what the Committee designed in the recommendation. By the present system primary meetings are held and those present choose delegates to a County Convention, and instruct those delegates whom to support as the first choice of the District, generally leaving it with the delegates to act as they see proper in case the candidate having the preference withdraws or has no chance of nomination. Marking is generally resorted to by the voters assembled to determine who is the choice of the district. It is alleged by some that this is unfair, and many are intimidated from indicating their real choice by those standing around, and that in many cases it gives rise to fraud. Nominations in this county being equivalent to an election, every voter should be left free to make his own selection of the candidates he deems most suitable. There are cases when men may be prevented from acting as their inclination and judgment dictate when they know their action will be known. To avoid this the ballot system is proposed. It will be seen by reference to the call of the Chairman, that if a change is desired, then the Convention will determine whether the delegate system shall be abandoned altogether, and instead thereof the popular vote system adopted, or whether the delegate system shall continue and the districts be required to vote by ballot at the primary meetings. In many townships the vote is now taken by ballot, but it is not general. Making nominations by the popular vote—that is holding a regular election and the[n] [illegible] the return judges to Beaver [illegible] the votes and declare the candidate having the highest number of votes the nominee of the party, has long been urged by prominent men in this county, and in some respects would be better than the present system. We are not prepared to say, however, that in all respects is would be for the best. It is urged by those who oppose the change that the boroughs would then control the nominations. For instance, New Brighton can cast three hundred votes at a primary meeting, and if all cast for one candidate might nominate him The country districts cannot cast as large a vote in proportion as the boroughs, and in this way it is urged the boroughs would unite and control the nominations. It is said again by the advocates of the change that the boroughs are no more likely to unite than the townships, and are in fact more divided in their choice of candidates. This question is now to be decided, and townships having more delegates than the boroughs have it in their power. Let them see they decide wisely, for the change, if made, will be permanent. Should the popular vote system not carry, then the substituting balloting for marking will have to be determined. In this there is less change and is more a matter of convenience and freedom than a change.

The story of a horrible rape committed near Bladensburg, by three Union officers last week, turns out to be a secesh fiction.

The telegraph lines are working through from New York to New Orleans and Mobile.

A few days ago a paroled rebel prisoner named W. Ray, passed through Nashville on his way to his home near Kingston Springs, Tenn. He boasted of having murdered seventeen men during the war, and apparently took delight in describing the agony of his victims. The blood-stained villain had no sooner reached his home than death arrested him at the hands of a relation of one of the murdered men.

The Washington Star of Saturday last says: A paper in cipher was found floating in the dock at Moorhead city, North Carolina, on the 2d of May, has been turned over to the Government. It has been literally translated, and is as follows:

WASHINGTON, April 15, 1865.

DEAR JOHN:—I am happy to inform you that Pet has done his work well; he is safe and Old Abe is in hell. Now, sir, all eyes are on you You must bring Sherman. Grant is in the hands of Old Grey ere this. Red Shoes showed a lack in good order. Johnson must come; Old Crook has him in charge. Mind that Brother's oath, and you will have no difficulty. All will be safe, and we will enjoy the fruits of our labors.

Political.

Capt. Samuel M'Kee, of Montgomery co., has been nominated for Congress, by the Union men of the Maysville (Ky.) district.

Secretary Stanton is about to resign. His resignation is rumored to be already in the hands of the President.

The Democrats elected their Municipal Judge in Wheeling last week, by about 300 majority. Little interest was felt in the result, and only about half the vote of the city was polled.

We observe that Samuel M'Kinley, Esq., is announced as a candidate for nomination for the Legislature in Lawrence county. Mr. M'Kinley is a native of this county, and was an honest, industrious, and competent member of the last House. We trust he will be returned.

The President has appointed the following officers for North Carolina: U. S. Marshal, [illegible] District Attorney, [illegible] Postmaster at Raleigh, [illegible] All are North Carolinians.

NUMBER ONE.

The Lessons of the War.

The terrible struggle through which this nation has passed during the four last years, has left for us profitable lessons if we shall but pay due attention to those admonitions which are easily to be discerned amid the [illegible] tions of a cruel war.

Some of these lessons have been so obvious that they have been seen by the whole nation [illegible] and they have been accepted [illegible] by the people of the [illegible] this [illegible] State sovereignty, and the dangerous [illegible] of the boasted doctrine of [illegible] Our people have been taught by the [illegible] of bitter experience that the [illegible] has been the source whence all the hateful heresies, [illegible] trine of secession, had their origin. The phrase which has become familiar as household words, "The Union [illegible] and shall be preserved," may [illegible] said to embody the sentiments of every loyal citizen upon this subject.

Another lesson which the conflict has taught us is the strength of Republican institutions, and the inherent power of our present form of government. When the war first broke out, every one feared for the government, this new form of government, so new, so untried by the fierce alembic of fraternal dissention. Could it withstand the powerful shocks of hostile armies? This was the question which struck consternation into the hearts of the wisest, and whose contemplation filled even the most sanguine with the gravest apprehensions.

The jealousy of the governments of Europe could present nothing in store for us but the most disastrous failure, and hence their prophesyings were of the most doleful character. Dissolution, disintegration, destruction—these were the inevitable results of a long continuance of a struggle whose gigantic proportions, increasing each hour, had in less than one year far surpassed the mightiest array known in modern history.

We were constantly [illegible] by the press of the old world, especially [illegible] of England and France, with [illegible] from our [illegible] [illegible]

The [illegible] of the war have [illegible] ly disappointed the expectations of those who professed to [illegible] bles the inevitable [illegible] tional dissolution, but [illegible] put to flight our worst cherished opinions. We began the war expecting to come out with at least a diminished credit, with resources at all events somewhat crippled, and with a country upon such a verge of exhaustion as to render a long period of repose necessary. How different the actual result. Our credit is to-day better than it was before the rebellion, our resources are far beyond our estimates, even of the most sanguine. So far from being exhausted are we that the the country is far more able to-day to undertake a war than ever before; better able to carry the burden of a vast struggle than any other nation now on the face of the globe. All this we have learned in the four short years of carnage, and the nations of the old world have learned it also. It results then that we have this fact to be established in the future Histories, "Of all governments the Republican is the strongest."

Thus is cast aside the old lie with which men have heretofore been deluded, that Monarchy is the strongest, [illegible] ocracy the wisest, Republicanism [illegible] weakest. We shall heed this lesson, and hereafter cling more closely to our old flag, the glorious symbol of our republican form of government, for this fact.

The value of our free institutions is now made manifest by the great cost [illegible] have maintained them at. We [illegible] henceforth recollect that our [illegible] worth more to us than life [illegible] to preserve it the lives of thousands of its best sons have been sacrificed. The priceless boon of National Liberty bequeathed us by our fore-fathers will not be the less jealously guarded by descendants who shall in the coming future read of the heroic sacrifices made to perpetuate it, and when they read of the deeds of those by whose valor this Union has been preserved, they will regard [it] their proudest boast, "I am [an Americ]an citizen."

[illegible] and the End of the War.

[illegible] est war of modern history [illegible] triumph. The country [illegible] ated the vastness of its [illegible] knew it was great; [illegible] knows it. The millions who have so long [illegible] to destroy life and [illegible] to pursuit of in[dustry] [illegible] ravaged fields [illegible] harvests. [illegible] Election.

[illegible] May 30, 1865.

[illegible] of a Legislature [illegible] Disunionists swept [illegible] was chosen to [illegible] who professed Union sentiments during the war, and only one to the House of Delegates. Daniel Lewis of Fairfax, a loyal man, was supposed to be elected from the Alexandria and Fairfax districts, but it turns out that the Union candidate had only 272 votes and the Disunion 506.

Ten counties are yet to vote before the 1st of June. The new Constitution adopted by the last Assembly disfranchises all men who have in any way given aid to the Rebellion since February, '65, but the returning Rebels scout that instrument and ignore the vote which adopted it, and in violations of its provisions they now appeal again to the ballot box in defense of Slavery and State sovereignty, which they failed to maintain in the arbitrament of battle. In consequence of this the greatest apprehensions are urging President Johnson to arm Gov. Pierpont with extraordinary military powers to uphold the authority of his Government.

UNION COUNTY CONVENTION.

ALL Loyal Union Voters [illegible] support the Administration and the principles of the Union party, are requested to meet at their usual places of holding election, on SATURDAY, JUNE 24TH,—in the Boroughs at 7 o'clock, p. m., and in the Townships at 4 p. m. —and elect delegates to a County Convention to be held at the COURT HOUSE, in BEAVER, on Monday, the 26th of June, at 11 a. m., to place in nomination candidates for Assembly, Treasurer, District Attorney, Commissioner, Surveyor, Coroner, Poor House Director, Auditor and Trustees of Academy, and to transact such other business as may be brought before them. By a resolution of the Union County Committee, the several Boroughs and Townships are instructed to vote upon the question of changing the present delegate system for the popular vote system, by which nominations shall hereafter be made by the popular vote, the candidate having the highest number of votes to be the nominee, the election to be conducted in the usual manner of holding elections, or whether, instead of the present marking system, voting by ballot shall be substituted. Delegates will come instructed to vote upon these questions, and determine in convention whether any change shall be made, and, if so, which system shall be adopted. By order of Committee.

[illegible] the name of James Wilson [illegible] New Brighton, as a candidate [for] County Treasurer.

Declination.

NEW BRIGHTON, June 5, 1865.

Messrs Editors: Through the partiality of a friend, with my approval, my name has been announced as a candidate for District Attorney.

Having been absent from the county, in the army, for upwards of three years, my acquaintance with the people is quite limited, and upon looking at the field I find it will require a more active canvass than my situation will permit me to give, and also from the fact of having been a member of the same company with Mr. Rutan, one of the opposing candidates, upon consideration I find it to be more in consonance with my feelings, and doubt not it will prove equally acceptable to my friends, to withdraw my name from the present canvass.

I return my sincere thanks to those friends who have kindly proffered me their support, hoping that at some future period, under more favorable auspices, they may have an opportunity of manifesting their generous intentions. I am, very truly y'rs, &c.,

Democratic Doctrine Expounded.

Kentucky, is the leading democratic State, [illegible] for McClellan [illegible] stands forth first and foremost in the office of expounder. Therefore her utterances are important. These have been authoritatively put forth in the resolutions adopted at "a meeting of the Democratic and conservative Union citizens of Kentucky, held in the Hall of the House of Representatives, in Frankfort, on Wednesday, May 24," and published at length in the Louisville Democrat of the 29th. We hope to see them in the Pittsburg Post.

Resolution No. 1 declares for the trial of offenders by regular judicial tribunals on the usual form of indictment.

No. 2 pronounces against the constitutional amendment abolishing slavery, as subversive of State rights.

No 3 declares against the enlistment of slaves, because it "is taking private property for public use" without compensation.

No. 4 is for "the Union of the States as founded by our fathers," according to the foregoing ideas, and the reserved right of each State to secede at will, "subject only to the restrictions and limitations of the Constitution."

No. 5 is for free speech and the liberty of the press—exercised in advocating the doctrines herewith set forth. (The last clause is under[stood].)

[illegible] is in favor of keeping the military subordinate to the civil authority [at all] times.

No. 7 is decidedly "in favor of the exercise of a liberal, kind, and conciliatory policy towards those who have been in arms against the Government," and to this end, the agreement made by General Sherman with General Johnson" is fully endorsed, "as wisely adapted to restore speedily the peace and harmony of the Union and make everything lovely.

No. 8 is for retrenchment and economy.

Here we have the Democratic doctrine right from the fountain head. How do our Democratic brethren hereabouts, who undertook to be so mild-mannered lately that they were scarcely able to recognize themselves like it?—Pittsburg Commercial $230,000,000.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned, the General Subscription Agent for the sale of United States Securities, offers to the public the third series of Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per ct. interest per annum, known as the

SEVEN-THIRTY LOAN.

These Notes are issued under date of July 15th, 1865, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent. GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are worth a premium, and are exempt, as are all the Government Bonds, from State, County or municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent per annum to their value, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

The Notes of this Third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven-Thirties already sold, except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent. instead of 7 3 10ths in currency. Subscribers will deduct the interest in currency up to July 15th, at the time when they subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this third series of the 7-30s will commence on the 1st of June, and will be made promptly and continuously after that date.

The slight change made in the conditions of this Third Series affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.

The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to pay interest in Gold be availed of, would so reduce and equalize prices that purchases made with six per cent. in gold would be fully equal to those made with seven and three tenths per cent in currency.

This is the ONLY LOAN IN MARKET now offered by the Government, and its superior advantages make it the

Great Popular Loan of the [People.]

THE BEAVER ARGUS

JUNE 7th, 1865.

LOCAL and MISCELLANEOUS

☞ We are under obligations to Lt. Col. Shallenberger for General Humphreys' invitation to attend his review of the Second Corps.

☞ Drs. S. P. Cummins and J. E. Jackson leave on Tuesday next, as delegates to the State Medical Society, which meets at Altoona.

☞ The Hay harvest will soon be here and if you wish to take it in easily and economically buy a "Welcome Hay Rake" from Alex. Clark of the Union Hotel, Beaver.

TRANSFERRED.—Dr. J. C. Levis, Post Surgeon at Pittsburg, has been transferred from the Military Hospital in that city, to Camp Reynolds, at which place a large number of Western Pennsylvania troops will be concentrated for muster and discharge.

☞ Brig. Gen. John S. Littell, of this county, is at present commanding the 2d Brigade, 2d Division, Tenth Corps, garrisoning Raleigh, North Carolina. His health is good, as is that of his command, and he writes that they all expect to be home by the 1st of September.

☞ Sheriff Ledlie, on Sunday last, took from the person of a female prisoner in his custody, upon a charge of larceny, six packages of strychnine. She avowed her purpose to have taken it if convicted, preferring death to the Penitentiary.

OIL.—Oil was struck in the Pritchard well at Smith's Ferry, on Friday last, at the depth of 175 feet. The oil is of the excellent quality usually obtained in that locality, and the show is fine for a good well.

One-fourth of the Patton Well, at the same place, was put up at public sale on Saturday last, and sold to O. H. P. Green at $4100.

A Strawberry Festival

Will be held in the Presbyterian Church, in Beaver, on next Friday evening, the 9th inst., for the benefit of the Sabbath School.

The admission fee will be 25 cents.

The strawberries, etc., will be disposed of on reasonable terms.

We trust our citizens will give it a liberal patronage, and pass a pleasant evening whilst contributing to a laudable object.

☞ [illegible] our advertising columns [illegible] Charles B. Hurst has opened a Banking House and Insurance Agency in Rochester. The want of such an institution has long been felt in that neighborhood, on account of the distance of the Bank of Beaver County, and the lapse of time between its discount days, and we have no doubt that a profitable business can be done in Rochester to the benefit of our business men. Capt. Hurst has the requisite capital, integrity, energy and business qualifications for the pursuit in which he engages, and we take pleasure in commending him to the patronage of our readers.

☞ THE NATIONAL BANK OF BEAVER COUNTY is still receiving subscriptions to the Seven thirty loan. The third series, now being sold, is the last authorized by Congress; after it is taken the Secretary of the Treasury will have exhausted his authority to borrow and the expenses of the Government will be so reduced that the necessity for borrowing will cease. It is not probable that another loan will be offered within the next half century at a rate of interest higher than four or five per cent, and our readers who have funds at hand would do well to take advantage of the opportunity now afforded them for a safe and profitable investment. The notes are being taken up at the rate of a million and a half per day and will soon be exhausted.

☞ Commissioners Beighley and Barnes have purchased the right of this County for Clay's Patent Metallic Weather-strip, which we noticed last week. They have got a good thing, and just what every householder wants on outside doors and windows. It will save double its cost every year in fuel, furniture, and home comfort. They will sell some of the remote townships on favorable terms. Now, boys, is your chance to go into a paying business on a small capital. Call and see them at once. They will also take orders and supply the strips as soon as they can manufacture them.

Our Townsman, S. B. Wilson, purchased the right of Allegheny county. We are not informed whether he will sell any portion of it or not, but presume he will, as he cannot supply the demands for this useful little invention. Messrs. Clay and Gray are doing a good work in the introduction of this strip, and we wish them abundant success.

Soldiers' Festival.

"Our boys are coming home" at last. Their good fight has been fought out triumphantly, and they return to lay aside the musket and mingle again with their fellow-citizens in the pursuits of civil life. The blue jackets and storm-beaten faces of the fighting 140th are already amongst us, the men enlisted last year for the one year service are on the way, and the veterans we have scattered amongst many of the old organizations will soon follow.

These men have long stood as a protecting wall between us and utter ruin, and now that their work is done, and they have secured by their blood and toil to us and our posterity the heritage of constitutional freedom transmitted by our fathers, it is but proper that we should testify publicly our appreciation of their services, and our regard for the memory of their comrades who have fallen in our behalf before the pestilence or in the shock of battle.

A meeting is called at the Court House for this evening to arrange the preliminaries for a Festival in their honor, to be held on the Fourth of July, at some central point, and to be participated in by the people of the entire county. We trust that a thorough organization will be effected, embracing every borough and township, and that our people will contribute liberally of their time and means to make the demonstration worthy of its occasion. Beaver county has given her best blood to the cause, and her soldiers have borne even more than their share of the labors and losses of war. Let us meet together with one accord, on the next Anniversary of our Independence, to render a fitting tribute to those who have been returned to us, and to weave a last garland of affection and honor for the departed brave.

☞ The particulars of the accident which occurred upon the Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad, below Vanport last week, as reliably reported to us, are such as demand the attention of our District Attorney and Grand Jury. It seems that two freight trains were under way for Pittsburg, within a short distance of each other, and that the train in advance finding the track obstructed by the gravel train was stopped, but that the conductor neglected to flag the train behind.—The condition of the track was concealed from the engineer of the hindmost train by an intervening curve, and the consequence was that he ran into the train preceding him at full speed, and [illegible] informant states that the same conductor was found not long since running his train upon the time of the Accommodation between this place and Industry, and that a collision, which would probably have cost many lives, was barely escaped.

It is due to the traveling public, where lives are in the hands of these railroad employees, that they should be held to a strict accountability, and we trust that this case will be investigated, and, if the conductor of the first freight train is found to have been guilty of the criminal carelessness with which he is charged, that he will be properly punished.

☞ We are indebted to the publishers, Messrs. Ticknor and Fields, Boston, Mass., for the initial volume of their series of COMPANION POETS FOR THE PEOPLE, entitled "Household Poems," by Henry W. Longfellow. They propose to present the choicest and most popular poems of the best poets at a price so low as to be within the reach of every household. The present volume is composed of the very best fugitive pieces of Mr. Longfellow, the most popular of our American poetical writers, and is handsomely illustrated. Price, Fifty cents. It will be followed by "Songs for all Seasons," by Alfred Tennyson; "National Lyrics" by Whittier, "Lyrics of Life" by Robert Browning. "Humorous Poems," by Dr. Holmes, and Religious Poems by Mrs. Stowe.

LOSS OF LIFE IN THE WAR.—Official returns in the War Office show that the deaths in the army since the war broke out, so far as heard from, with the estimate made for those returns not yet handed in including starved prisoners, &c., will aggregate about three hundred and twenty-five thousand! These are the deaths alone. When we estimate the wounded in the ratio of three for every one killed —which is less than the usual average—we see at what a fearful sacrifice of life and limb the nation has preserved its existence.

JEFF. OF THE WOODS.—"The world am mighty unsartain, my brethren," said the old negro class leader. "You am watched all de time and very particular. * * * * * Broad and narrer am de road that leads to destruction, and narrer and broad am de road that leads to damnation." "If dat's de case," said one of his hearers, "dis chile takes to the woods." Ditto, Jefferson Davis.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Emery Edes, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an afflicting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well-known and much-esteemed lady of Dennisville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely-known Gage, Murray & Co., manufacturers of enamelled papers in Nashua, N. H.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Sawin, Houston St., New York.

"DR. AYER. I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Wakeman, Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The ulcers were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Tunkhannock Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

From Dr. Hiram Sloat, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DR. AYER—My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and effectual in some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Van Liew, of New Brunswick, N. J., had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness, are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration, and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require, however, in aid of the SARSAPARILLA, the skilful application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrill, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when its effect is properly aided by local treatment."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia, when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this EXT. SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they have ever done.

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES OF THE BRAVE SOLDIERS AND SAILROS,
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS
And Ointment.

ALL WHO have Friends and Relatives in the Army or Navy, should take especial care that they be amply supplied with those Pills and Ointment; and where the brave Soldiers and Sailors have neglected to provide themselves with them, no better present can be sent them by their friends. They have been proved to be the Soldier's never-failing friend in the hour of need.

COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS

Will be speedily removed and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines, and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box.

SICK HEADACHES AND WANT OF APPETITE INCIDENTAL TO SOLDIERS.

These feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly a produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE,

Sores and Ulcers, Blotches and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Pills are taken night and morning, and the Ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the humors from the system and leave the Patient a vigorous and healthy man. It will require a little perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET, SABRE OR THE BULLET, SORES OR BRUISES.

To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable there are no medicines so safe, sure and convenient as Holloway's Pills and Ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack and compressed with a handkerchief. BEAVER ACADEMY.

THE Spring Term of this Institution will commence

Tuesday, April 4th, 1865,

under the charge of

Messrs. F. AGNEW & M. GANTZ;

as Associate Principals.

It is the desire, and will be the aim, to make this a thorough English, Classical and Commercial School, and to sustain the high character it has had heretofore.

To those who desire a good English education, and to those who have been or contemplate teaching in our public schools, inducement is offered from the fact that the latter of the Principals, for the last twelve years, has been Principal of New Castle Union Schools.

Both are graduates of different colleges, and well acquainted with the wants of our higher institutions. Persons, therefore, who design fitting themselves for college, will find this a suitable and desirable place.

The former having been for some time connected with the Iron City College, as a principal teacher, and the latter also being a graduate of Duff's College, advantages superior to most outside of the Commercial colleges are offered to those desiring a business education.

Our new Academy Buildings, designed expressly for the purpose, with large school-room, class rooms, society hall, etc., are now occupied, though not quite finished. It is expected, however, to have them wholly so at an early day.

For rates of tuition, &c., send for circular. Address the Principals or the undersigned.

HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE.

Critical Notices of the Press.

It is the foremost Magazine of the day.—The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the millions a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore).

The most popular Monthly in the World.—New York Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellence of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—TRUBNER'S Guide to American Literature, London.

The volumes bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the same compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

Dr. Hurd's MOUTH WASH, TOOTH POWDER and TOOTHACHE DROPS cannot be sent by mail, but they can probably be obtained at your Drug or Periodical Stores. If they cannot, send to us for the DENTAL TREASURY, Price, ONE DOLLAR, which contains them.

NOW.

Are Dr. Hurd's Preparations Good?

The best evidences that they are is, that their firmest friends and best patrons are those who have used them longest. Dr. Wm. B. Hurd is an eminent Dentist of Brooklyn, Treasurer of the New York State Dentists' Association, and these preparations have been used in his private practice for years, and no leading citizen of Brooklyn or Williamsburg questions their excellence, while eminent Dentists of New York recommend them as the best known to the profession. Without the aid of advertising, dealers have sold them by the gross.

The Editor of the Brooklyn Daily Times says: "We are happy to know that our friend, Dr. Hurd, is succeeding beyond all expectations with his MOUTH WASH and TOOTH POWDER. The great secret of his success rests with the fact that his articles are precisely what they are represented to be, as we can testify from their long use."

The well known P. T. Barnum writes: "I found your TOOTH POWDER so good that my family have used it all up. We find it the best powder for the teeth we have ever used. I shall feel obliged if you will send me another supply at the Museum at your convenience, with bill."

But their cost is so small that every one may test the matter for himself.

☞ Beware of the ordinary Tooth Powders. Dr. Hurd's Tooth Powder contains no acid, nor alkali, nor charcoal, and polishes without wearing the enamel. Use no other.

WHAT WILL DR. HURD'S REMEDIES EFFECT?

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will give young [illegible] that finest charm in woman—a [illegible] pearly teeth. Try them. [illegible] and the day begin more pleasantly. [illegible] of persons can testify to this. Try them, gentlemen.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder are the the best preparations in the world for curing bad breath and giving firmness and health to the gums. Hundreds of cases of Diseased Bleeding Gums, Sore Mouth, Canker, etc., have been cured by Dr. Hurd's astringent wash.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder give an additional charm to courtship, and make husbands more agreeable to their wives and wives to their husbands. They should be used by every person having which are liable to impart a taint to the mouth.

Dr. Hurd's Toothache Droops cure Toothache arising from exposed nerves, and are the best friends that parents can have in the house to save their children from torture and themselves from loss of sleep and sympathetic suffering.

Farmers and mechanics! you cannot well afford to neglect your teeth. For a trifling sum you can now get preservatives, than which Rothschild or Astor can get nothing better. Remember that Dyspepsia and Consumption of the Lungs often originate in neglect of Teeth. Send for the Treatise on Teeth, and read Dr. Fitch's observations on this subject. If too late to arrest decay in your own teeth, save your children's teeth.

NEURALGIA PLASTERS.—Dr. Hurd's Neuralgia Non-Adhesive Plasters are the most pleasant and successful remedies ever prescribed for this painful disease. The patient applies one, soon becomes drowsy, falls asleep, and awakes free from pain, and no blister or other unpleasant or injurious consequences ensue. For Earache and Nervous Headache, apply according to directions, and relief will surely follow. Nothing can be obtained equal to Dr. Hurd's Compress for Neuralgia. Try them. They are entirely a novel, curious and original preparation, and wonderfully successful. They are of two sizes, one small, for the face, price 15 cents, and the other large, for application to the body, price 37 cents. Will be mailed on receipt of price and one stamp.

WHAT ARE THE PEOPLE DOING?

The American people are intelligent enough to appreciate preparations that contribute so much to happiness of those using them, and they wont them. Every mail brings us letters, some ordering the Treatise on Teeth, some the Neuralgia Plasters, and not a few enclosing $1 cts. for the Mouth Wash, to be sent by mail; but to these we are compelled to reply that it is impossible to send a half-pint bottle by mail. The people want these Remedies. Who will supply them?

Now is the CHANCE FOR AGENTS.

Shrewd agents can make a small fortune in carrying these articles around to families. The Dental Treasury is the neatest article that a man or woman can carry around. Send for one and see, or, better, a dozen, which we will sell, as samples, for $7. Agents supplied liberally with circulars. ☞ Now is the time to go into the business, to do good, and make a profit. We are spending thousands for the benefit of agents. New England men or women! here is something nice, and a chance to take the tide at its flood. Address,

WM. B. HURD & CO.,
Tribune Buildings, New York.

That remittances may be made with confidence, W. B. H. & Co., refer to the Mayor of Brooklyn; to G. W. Griffith, President Farmers' and Citizens Bank, Brooklyn; to Joy, Coe, & Co., New York; to P. T. Barnum, Esq., New York, etc., etc.
